Provide a timeline for the project activities: *

What is the primary issue the project will address? *

This year, we are asking young people tackling Roots & Shoots projects to think bigger about the impacts their projects can have on their community and the world around them. With an emphasis on the 3 global crises listed below, we encourage youth to reflect on the interconnectedness between animals, people and the environment through their Roots & Shoots projects.

- ☐ Biodiversity Loss (Animals)
- ☐ Environmental Inequity (People)
- ☐ Climate Change (Environment)

Is the group leading the project First Nations, Métis or Inuit OR is your school/group/organization Indigenous-led or Indigenous-owned? *

☒ Yes

☐ No

☐ I don't know

The Jane Goodall Institute of Canada acknowledges that the land upon which our office operates has been the site of human activity for 15,000 years and is the traditional territory of the Huron-Wendat and Petun First Nations, the Seneca and most recently, the Mississaugas of the New Credit. It is still the home to many Indigenous people from across Turtle Island and we are honoured to have the opportunity to work in this territory.
